† The population of Pondicherry for 1951 has been assumed to be the same as in 1948 when a census was taken by the French Government.

NOTE.—Owing to the adoption of different definitions in the 1961 census for urban areas the number of urban, areas in the census is different from that in force in the 1951 census. The figures for 1951 and 1961, therefore, are not strictly comparable.

NOTES—1. The indices for 1962-63 and 1963-64 are generally based on Partially Revised Estimates while those for 1964-65 are generally based on Final Estimates. The indices for these years are, therefore, subject to revision.

2. Figures given above relate to Agricultural Year (July-June).

3. Owing to progressive increase in coverages and changes in methods of yield estimation, the actual production figures in respect of foodgrains and sugarcane (gur) as given in Table Nos. 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3 are not comparable over time. For comparison of all-India position over time, index numbers of agricultural production as given in this Table may be used with a view to enabling trend studies.

Notes—

- (1) Local procurement was suspended in some States during 1952; in Madras for all cereals from 7th June in Uttar Pradesh for all cereals other than rice from 1st July, in Mysore for millets, in Madhya Bharat rice and millets and in Saurashtra for all kharif cereals from November, 1952. During 1953 monopoly for procurement of Rice was replaced by levy system in West Bengal from 1st January. The levy system was given up from 14th October and purchases were made on a voluntary basis thereafter. In Andhra Pradesh, the levy system of procurement was given up in mid-December and purchases were made on a voluntary basis at village site at prices fixed by the Government. In Uttar Pradesh, procurement of rice was given up in December, 1953; though collection of the quantity procured earlier continued thereafter. Procurement of wheat and coarse grains was given up after the decontrol of these cereals in November. Small quantities of coarse grains were, however, procured during 1954 from the Eastern districts of Uttar Pradesh. Some quantity of coarse grains was also procured by Madhya Bharat in 1954. Procurement of rice was resumed in surplus districts of Madras in 1953. In Assam, Punjab and erst-while Bombay and Travancore Cochin procurement of rice was stopped from 14th March, 1954, 20th February, 1954, 21st March, 1954 and 7th April, 1954 respectively and in other States procurement of rice was stopped completely from 10th July 1954 consequent upon complete decontrol of rice from that date.

- (2) In December, 1954, the Government of India announced their policy of limited purchase of foodgrains as measure of price support. In this connection Table No. 6 and the note below may be seen.
- (3) Owing to the difficulties of procuring rice from abroad in 1957, limited purchases of rice were made internally in Andhra Pradesh, Punjab, and Orissa by the Central Government. In Andhra Pradesh, rice was procured in the three delta districts of Krishna, West Godavari and East Godavari. To begin with, procurement was made at the average of the prices for three months preceding the 6th June, 1957 under the provisions of the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1957. Later on 14th September, 1957, maximum controlled prices were notified for these districts and procurement was made at these controlled prices. These controlled prices were revised with effect from 30th December 1957 when procurement operations were extended to Guntur district also. Procurement was made partly by requisitioning and partly on the basis of voluntary offers.
- (4) In Punjab and Orissa purchases were made on the basis of voluntary offers by trade. On 19th March 1957 the Orissa Government first banned the export of rice. When they started making purchases, the Government of India prohibited the export of rice from Orissa with effect from 5th June, 1957 and from the Punjab with effect from 30th December, 1957. Maximum controlled prices for rice in Punjab were fixed with effect from the 28th December, 1957.
- (5) The Central Government purchases of rice were extended to Madhya Pradesh in 1958. Besides, purchases by the Centre, a number of State Governments undertook purchases of rice, paddy and wheat on their own account in 1959.
- (6) Purchases of rice/paddy which were being made by the State Government on their own account in West Bengal, Madras and Mysore were given up in 1959. Maximum controlled prices, fixed in these States and in Bihar and Kerala were also withdrawn. Purchases of rice/paddy, on Central Government account in Orissa ceased with effect from 21st December, 1959, consequent of the formation of the Eastern Rice Zone.
- (7) In 1960, purchases of rice/paddy by the Central Government were made in Punjab and Madhya Pradesh and to a negligible extent in Andhra Pradesh; and by the State Governments on their own account in the States of Assam, Madhya Pradesh, Orissa, Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and Jammu and Kashmir and in the Union Territory of Tripura. The Government of Punjab had also purchased a small quantity of rice for themselves.
- (8) In the case of wheat, purchases were made only by the Government of Punjab, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh on their own account and even in these three States purchase operations were not continued throughout the year. In Punjab and Madhya Pradesh purchases were given up from the middle of July and September, 1960 respectively. In Uttar Pradesh, the levy on wheat dealers and the statutory price control on wheat imposed in May, 1959 were withdrawn in August, 1960.
- (9) In 1961, purchases of rice/paddy by the Central Government were made in Punjab and Madhya Pradesh and by the State Governments on their own account in the States of Assam, Madhya Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir, Orissa and Uttar Pradesh. In Madhya Pradesh, Purchase operations on State Government account were given up from 31st May, 1961.
- (10) No wheat was purchased during the year, 1961 except for a small quantity purchased by the Punjab Government during the post monsoon-period for distribution in the flood affected areas in the States.
- (11) In 1962, purchases on behalf of the Government of India were confined only to rice.
- (12) During 1961-62 season, purchases of rice/paddy by the Central Government were made only in Punjab and Madhya Pradesh and by the State Governments on their own account in the States of Assam, Orissa, Uttar Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir and to a negligible extent in the State of Punjab and the Union Territory of Tripura.
- (13) For the 1962-63 season, purchases of rice in Punjab, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh were stepped up. The percentage of levy in Punjab was raised from 60 to 65-2/3 per cent in Uttar Pradesh from 35 to 50 per cent. In Madhya Pradesh, though the percentage of levy had not been raised, the levy was extended to two more districts namely, Seoni and Bastar. Arrangements were also made for the purchase of rice on Central Government account in Madras and Andhra Pradesh and for the purchase of rice/paddy by the Manipur Administration on their own account.
- (14) For the 1963-64 season, purchases of rice on Central Government account were made in Andhra Pradesh, Madras, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab and Uttar Pradesh. The procurement prices of rice were increased by Rs. 2-68 per quintal w.e.f. 1-11-63 (Rs. 1-00 per maund) in the major rice producing States. In the States of Andhra Pradesh and Madras this increase in price was inclusive of the incentive bonus of Rs. 2-00 per quintal (Rs. 0-75 per maund) allowed during the 1962-63 season. The percentage of levy in Uttar Pradesh was raised from 10 to 25 in the case of grade I and grade I (Special) and from 50 to 60 in the case of grades II to V. In Madhya Pradesh the percentage of levy was raised from 25 to 30.

- (15) Rice was procured in Andhra Pradesh and Madras during 1963 on a voluntary basis. During 1964, the procurement was through a system of levy. The rate was 40 per cent in Andhra Pradesh to begin with, but reduced to 25 per cent later. In Madras, the rate of levy was 20 per cent in the district of Tanjavur and 15 per cent in other districts.
- (16) In March, 1962, the Government of India announced their policy to assure a reasonable price to the cultivator for his produce and introduced a scheme to give support to the prices of wheat in event of their going down the uneconomical levels. In April, 1963 the support prices were increased by Rs. 2.68 per quintal (Re. 1.00 per maund). The price support scheme was extended to jowar, during 1963-64 season. For the 1964-65 season, the producers prices were announced for paddy, jowar, bajra, maize, gram and wheat. In this connection Table No. 6 and Notes thereof may be seen.
- (17) For the 1964-65 season purchases of rice on Central Government account were made in the States of Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Madras, Orissa and Punjab. In addition, purchases were also made in the States of Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Gujarat, Mysore, West Bengal, Kerala and Assam and Jammu & Kashmir on their own account. These purchases were made at the ex-mill wholesale price statutorily fixed in each State. The levy percentage was 66½ in Punjab, 60 in Madhya Pradesh, 75 in Orissa, 60 in Uttar Pradesh, 50 in West Bengal, 50 in Madras, 25 in Bihar and 50 in Mysore.
- (18) In addition to the procurement of rice and paddy, some State Governments had purchased wheat and coarse grains in the 1964-65 season. In Punjab, wheat was purchased in the open market by the State Government under the right of pre-emptory purchase. Small quantities of wheat were purchased in Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh at fixed prices. In Madhya Pradesh, the State Government imposed a levy on all purchases of wheat made by traders in twenty-two specified wheat growing districts.
- (19) Purchases of coarse grains on behalf of the Central Government out of 1964-65 crop were made in Punjab only. Purchases of coarse grains were also undertaken out of 1964-65 crops by the State Governments of Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Mysore, Punjab, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh and to a small extent by Andhra Pradesh and Jammu & Kashmir, on their own account.
- (20) In the 1965-66 season, paddy is being procured from the cultivators in all the States except in Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and Gujarat. In the States of Madras, Mysore, Kerala, West Bengal, Madhya Pradesh and Bihar, paddy is being procured from the cultivators by a system of levy on an acreage basis. In the States of Assam, Orissa and Maharashtra, monopoly procurement of paddy from the cultivators has been introduced. In Rajasthan and Andhra Pradesh paddy was being procured from cultivator by levy on acreage basis, but paddy procurement schemes in these two States were withdrawn on the 22nd January and 2nd March, 1966 respectively. The system of pre-emptory purchase of wheat has been continued in Punjab during the 1965-66 season (April, 1965—March, 1966).

NOTES:—

- (1) In December, 1954, the Government of India announced that in view of the fall in the prices of some foodgrains to unduly low levels in some isolated areas, they would be prepared to purchase from cultivators as a measure of relief, jowar at Rs. 5.50 per maund or Rs. 14.74 per quintal, bajra at Rs. 6.00 per maund or Rs. 16.06 per quintal and maize at Rs. 5.50 per maund or Rs. 14.74 per quintal at certain specified mandis where the prices fell below these levels. The policy of limited price support was extended to wheat in March, 1955, when the Government announced that they would make purchases of F.A.Q. wheat at rail-head mandis at Rs. 10.00 per maund or Rs. 26.80 per quintal where its price fell below that level. In June, 1955, a minimum purchase price of Rs. 6.00 per maund or Rs. 16.06 per quintal was announced for gram, the machinery for the purchase of gram being the same as that for wheat. In August, 1955 the Government announced its decision to make purchases of coarse rice, as a measure of price support at selected mandis if the price of that quality fell below Rs. 11.00 per maund or Rs. 29.47 per quintal.

- (2) The limited price support policy for jowar, bajra and maize was extended in September, 1955 to the 1955-56 Kharif crop when the Government of India announced the same minimum prices for these grains as were in force in 1954-55.
- (3) No purchases of bajra and coarse rice were made during 1955 as the market prices of these cereals did not fall below the minimum prices announced by the Govt.
- (4) No purchases of cereals were made during 1956 on Government of India's account. A quantity of 20,847 tonnes of rice and 1,588 tonnes of paddy was, however, purchased through trade on Jammu & Kashmir Government's account and despatched direct to Pathankot.
- (5) In pursuance of their policy to assure a reasonable price to the cultivator for his produce, the Government of India introduced in March, 1962 a scheme to give support to the prices of wheat in the event of their going down to uneconomic levels. The following minimum prices of wheat were fixed :

(In Rs.)

Variety	Prices for fair average quality
	Per maund	Per quintal
Red Wheat	12.00	32.15
Common white variety	13.00	34.83
Superior farm variety	14.00	37.51

Purchasing agents were appointed in mandis where the State Governments considered that there was a likelihood of the prices of wheat falling below the support prices. Prices of wheat, however, stabilised at suitable levels very soon after the harvest and it was not necessary for the Government of India to purchase any large quantity of wheat.

- (6) For rice, it was decided not to fix any minimum support price. Wherever Government procurement of rice was in operation, the procurement prices acted as support prices. In other States, the State Governments were advised to purchase the common white varieties of rice at prices fixed during the 1958-59 season if prices in any area tended to fall below those levels after the harvest. It was expected that if the prices of common white varieties of rice stabilised at suitable levels, the prices of other varieties would also stabilise at comparable levels.
- (7) For the 1963-64 wheat season, it was decided to make purchases of wheat as a measure of price support in major wheat producing States viz., Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Punjab and Rajasthan. It was arranged with the Governments of the above four States that they would purchase wheat on behalf of the Central Government as and when prices of any quality of wheat touched or fell below the minimum level fixed by the Government of India anywhere in the States. The following support prices were announced on 26th April, 1963 :

(In Rs.)

Variety	Prices for fair average quality
	Per maund	Per quintal
Red Wheat	13.00	34.83
Common white variety	14.00	37.51
Superior farm variety	15.00	40.19

- (8) In December, 1962, the price support scheme was extended to rice. In the States where Government were procuring rice, the procurement prices acted as support prices. In other States, the State Governments were advised to purchase common white varieties of rice of fair average quality at prices ranging between Rs. 40.19 and Rs. 44.21 per quintal (Rs. 15.00 to Rs. 16.50 per maund) if the prices of rice tended to fall below these levels. It was expected that if the prices of common white varieties of rice stabilised at suitable levels, the prices of other varieties would also stabilise at comparable levels. In view of the decline in production of rice during 1962-63, the prices of rice ruled at higher levels and there was no actual purchase of rice as a price support measure.
- (9) No minimum prices for paddy were fixed for 1962-63 season as it was expected that by giving support to the prices of rice, the prices of paddy would automatically stabilise at suitable levels.
- (10) For the 1963-64 season, the price support scheme has been extended to jowar and the following support prices have been fixed :

(In Rs.)

Crop/Variety	Prices for fair average quality
	Per maund	Per quintal
Jowar, White	9.00	24.12
Jowar, Yellow	8.50	22.78

As jowar is produced mainly for local consumption and inter-State movement of this grain is very small the Governments of major jowar producing States have been advised to purchase jowar under their own arrangements and to make suitable arrangements for its storage and subsequent disposal. They have also been requested to utilise the agency of co-operatives to the extent feasible. No purchases of jowar have, however, been made under this scheme.

- (11) For the 1964-65 season, the Government of India announced the producer's prices of paddy of standard variety for all States except Maharashtra. The support prices for different States vary between Rs. 34.00 to Rs. 40.00 per quintal. The Maharashtra Government had announced a support price of Rs. 41.00 per quintal for Java variety of paddy even before the paddy prices for various States were announced by the Central Government. The State Governments were authorised to announce the prices of other varieties of paddy in their States on the basis of these prices and were asked to make immediate arrangements at the declared assembling points for making purchases of paddy at the announced support prices if the prices tend to fall below the support levels.
- (12) The Central Government have authorised the State Governments to announce the following producer's prices for wheat and gram for 1964-65 crop which will start arriving in February-March, 1965 :

(In Rs.)

Crop	Variety	Price per quintal for fair average quality
Wheat	Red	45.50
	Common white	49.50
	Superior farm	53.50
Gram		40.00 to Rs. 40.50

The Government of Maharashtra had already fixed a higher price for purchase of wheat on Government account and they were, therefore, not called upon to announce these prices.

- (13) The Central Government also authorised the State Governments to announce the producers' prices of jowar, bajra, and maize for 1964-65 season within the following ranges :

Crop/Variety	Prices per quintal for fair average quality
Jowar, Yellow	Rs. 38.00 to Rs. 38.50 (with suitable discount for red variety and premium for white variety).
Bajra	Rs. 40.00 to Rs. 40.50
Maize	Rs. 36.00 to Rs. 36.50

- (14) On the recommendations of the Agricultural Prices Commission, the Government of India announced in June, 1965 the minimum prices of paddy of standard variety for the season 1965-66. The support prices for different States vary between Rs 35.00 to Rs 40.00 per quintal. The State Governments have been authorised to announce the minimum prices of other varieties of paddy in their States on the basis of these prices and have been requested to declare assembling points at which Government will be prepared to purchase paddy offered to it for sale.

- (15) On the basis of the recommendations of the Agricultural Prices Commission the Central Government have also announced the following support prices for jowar, bajra and maize for 1965-66 season :

Coarse Cereal	Variety	Minimum price per quintal
Jowar	Yellow	Rs. 38.00 (with suitable discount for red and premium for white variety)
Bajra	F.A.Q.	Rs. 40.00
Maize	F.A.Q.	Rs. 36.00

- (16) Information given in this table for the year 1955 is according to the old Set-up of the States prior to re-organisation on 1st November, 1956.

In case of maritime States comprising of two or more Trade Blocks, the totals have been arrived at by excluding the inland trade between constituent Trade Blocks. The figures shown against Grand Total (with  mark) are based on such totals.

Notes.—1. Figures in brackets indicate rice equivalents of paddy (rice in the husk). These figures have been taken into account in arriving at the total movement (imports and exports) of cereals for a particular Trade Block.

2. Table relates to movement by rail and river.

2. For the year 1963-64, the minimum price of sugarcane linked to a recovery of 9 per cent was fixed at Rs. 4·69 per quintal with provision for increase of 4 P. per quintal for every 0·1 per cent increase in recovery. The factories in areas where competition with gur and khandsari was intense, were permitted to pay Rs. 5·36 per quintal in case the notified minimum price was less than Rs. 5·36 per quintal. The deduction which factories used to make on account of transport of cane delivered by cane-growers to them at roadside purchasing centres was limited to 32 P. per quintal instead of up to 96 P. per quintal allowed until the season 1962-63, calculated at the rate of 2·5 P. per quintal per kilometre. This was done to give an advantage up to 64 P. per quintal to the cane-growers supplying cane from more than eight miles away from factories.
3. For the season 1964-65, the basic minimum price of cane payable by sugar factories has been fixed at Rs. 5·36 per quintal delivered at the factory gate linked to a recovery of 10·4 per cent or less. A premium of 4 P. per quintal is payable for every 0·1 per cent rise in recovery above 10·4 per cent. The minimum price for sugarcane delivered at the cane purchasing centres connected by rail is 32 P. per quintal less than the price fixed for delivery at the factory gate. Similarly a rebate at the rate of 2·5 P. per quintal per kilometre can be deducted from the cane price in the case of sugarcane delivered at the cane purchasing centres connected by road if such cane is transported by the sugar factory at its cost. This rebate is also subject to a maximum of 32 P. per quintal.
4. For the season 1965-66, the Government of India announced on November 2, 1965 that the basic minimum price of sugarcane should be the same as was fixed for the season 1964-65.

NOTES.—(1) Population figures relate to mid-year revised estimates. These estimates have been framed by the office of the Registrar General of India.

(2) Production figures relate to Agricultural year (July—June); 1951 figure corresponds to the production 1950-51, and so on for subsequent years. Net production has been taken as 87.5% of the gross production being provided for feed, seed requirements and wastage.

(3) Figures relating to Net imports have been arrived at by deducting gross exports from gross imports.

(4) Figures relating to change-in-stocks represent a net increase or decrease in stocks at the end of the calendar year. The plus sign represents an increase in stocks and the minus sign represents decrease in stocks during a particular year. The figures of stocks relate to total stocks both with State Governments and Central Government. Stocks held by traders and producers are not known.

(5) The estimates of net availability are calculated as : Net production+Net imports —(±) change in Government Stocks.

(6) Figures in respect of daily per capita availability given above are not strictly representative of the actual level of consumption in the country, especially as they do not take into account any changes in stocks in possession of traders, producers and consumers.

APPENDIX IV

Reserve Bank Directives regarding Control of Credit against Foodgrains

The broad framework of selective control of bank credit against foodgrains was continued as part of the overall policy to check speculative hoarding of foodgrains. The salient features of selective credit control during 1964 and 1965 are indicated below :

1. On the 8th February, 1964, the Reserve Bank issued a directive whereby restrictions on advances against rice and paddy were somewhat tightened. Accordingly, the scheduled banks were directed to maintain in each two-month period commencing from January-February 1964 average aggregate levels of advances against paddy and rice including advances against warehouse receipts, equal to 90 per cent of the levels of such advances maintained in the corresponding period during the year 1962. In so far as margin requirements are concerned, they were maintained at the previous level of 35 per cent subject to reduced margin of 25 per cent in the case of advances against warehouse receipts and to licensed millers and traders in paddy and rice in the State of Punjab. The advances against warehouse receipts of those warehouses which came into existence on or after January 1, 1961 were completely exempted from the operation of ceilings. Previously, this concession was granted to those warehouses which were opened on or after April 1, 1962. The directive also provided for the continuance of the additional credit limits enjoyed previously by bank offices operating in Punjab and Orissa. The additional credit limits enjoyed by bank offices in Assam for ensuring credit to rice millers in the State, were however withdrawn with the restoration of normal conditions. Other provisions relating to advances against foodgrains other than rice, paddy and wheat remained unchanged in this directive.

2. In terms of Reserve Bank directive of March, 21, 1964, the scheduled banks were required to maintain in each two-month period commencing from March-April, 1964, average aggregate level of credit against the security of foodgrains other than rice, paddy and wheat including advances against warehouse receipts, equal to 100 per cent of the average aggregate level of such credit actually maintained during the corresponding period of 1962. Margin requirement was continued at 35 per cent subject to reduced margin of 25 per cent in the case of advances against warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts issued by the warehouses opened since January, 1, 1961 were exempted from the operation of ceilings. The provisions relating to advances against rice and paddy remained unchanged in this directive.

3. By another directive, issued by the Reserve Bank on April 21, 1964, restrictions on advances against wheat were re-imposed. In terms of this directive, the average aggregate limits in respect of advances against wheat to be maintained separately in the State of Punjab and also in other States taken together during each two-month period commencing from May-June, 1964 are fixed at a level equivalent to 80 per cent of such limits maintained in each corresponding two-month period in 1962. The margin limit of 35 per cent on advances against wheat, except advances against warehouse receipts, has also been imposed, with a reduced margin of 25 per cent in the case of warehouse receipts. The provisions relating to rice, paddy and other foodgrains, as provided in the earlier directives, remain unaltered.

4. In view of the sharp rise in prices of foodgrains, the existing controls on advances against paddy, rice, wheat and other foodgrains was further tightened by a new directive issued by Reserve Bank on 17th August, 1964. Under this directive, the minimum margin requirement to be maintained by banks on advances against all foodgrains has been raised from 35 per cent to 50 per cent with immediate effect. The minimum margin requirement on advances against warehouse receipts covering foodgrains has also been raised from 25% to 40%. The ceiling limits on advances against foodgrains other than rice, paddy and wheat have been reduced. The average aggregate limits in respect of advances against foodgrains other than rice, paddy and wheat, to be maintained during each two-month period commencing from September-October, 1964 are fixed at a level equivalent to 90 per cent of such limits maintained in each corresponding two-month period in 1962. The provisions relating to ceiling limits and exemptions etc. on advances against rice, paddy and wheat as provided in the earlier directives remain unchanged in this directive.

5. According to a directive issued on the 27th May, 1965, the scheduled banks were allowed to maintain in each two-month period commencing from May-June, 1965, average aggregate levels of advances against paddy and rice, including advances against warehouse receipts, equal to 100 per cent of the levels of such advances maintained, in the corresponding periods during the year 1964 in the case of all States, except Andhra Pradesh, taken together. In the case of Andhra Pradesh, where the Food Corporation of India was expected to operate on a substantial scale this ceiling limit was fixed at 75 per cent of the actual level maintained in 1964. Advances granted to the Food Corporation of India against the pledge/hypothecation of paddy and rice were completely exempted from the purview of the directive and in the case of the authorised agents of the Food Corporation, a lower minimum margin of 25 per cent was prescribed for advances against paddy and rice. The directive also provided for the continuance of the additional credit limits previously enjoyed by bank's offices in the States of Punjab and Orissa. The general margin requirement of 50 per cent with a reduced margin of 40 per cent in the case of warehouse advances and 25 per cent in the case of licensed dealers and traders in Punjab remained unchanged in this directive.

6. On the 5th August, 1965, the Reserve Bank of India issued revised directives regulating advances against wheat and other foodgrains (excluding rice and paddy). Under these directives, the margin requirements of 50 per cent on advances against wheat and other foodgrains with a reduced margin of 40 per cent in the case of warehouse advances was continued. The ceiling limits on advances against wheat for each two-month period commencing from August-September, 1965, were fixed at 100 per cent of actual level of advance maintained in 1964 separately in the State of Punjab and group of other States taken together. Similarly, the ceiling limits on advances against group of other foodgrains (other than rice, paddy and wheat) including warehouse advances were fixed separately in the States of (a) Madhya Pradesh (b) Uttar Pradesh and (c) group of other States (excluding Maharashtra) at 100 per cent of the actual level of advances maintained in 1964. In the case of Maharashtra, however, a separate ceiling was fixed at 75 per cent of the actual level of advances maintained in 1964 for the first time.

7. In view of the dislocation caused to trade and industry in the State of Punjab arising from the Indo-Pakistan conflict, the Reserve Bank of India issued on the 12th November, 1965 an amended directive under which the restrictions on advances against stocks of certain foodgrains were relaxed in Punjab. Accordingly, the minimum margin to be maintained on advances against wheat and other foodgrains by licensed dealers & millers in Punjab was lowered from 50 to 25 per cent. This concession was allowed up to the end of April, 1966. In the case of paddy and rice, the lower margin of 25 per cent was continued. Besides this, offices and branches of scheduled banks operating in the districts of Ferozepore, Amritsar, Gurdaspur, Jullundur, Ludhiana and Kapurthala in Punjab were allowed to maintain a further limit of Rs. 2 lakhs per office or branch in respect of advances against rice, paddy, wheat and other foodgrains. These additional limits were exclusively allowed for use in these districts upto the end of April, 1966.

8. Further, the Reserve Bank of India on the 31st January, 1966 issued an amended directive under which credit limits against stocks of paddy, rice and wheat granted to the authorised wholesale dealers and fair price shop dealers in the State of Kerala have been relaxed. Accordingly, advances against stocks of these foodgrains to aforesaid agencies have been exempted from ceiling restrictions and the minimum margin on them has been reduced from 50 per cent to 25 per cent.
